THE $150,000 SWORDQUEST™ CHALLENGE... CONTINUES...

...with $100,000 in Jewel Encrusted Prizes remaining to be won in the SWORDQUEST CHALLENGE ...plus expense-paid trips to the play-off site... and Atari Certificates of Merit for skilled players

Steve Bell of St. Claire Shores, Michigan won the $25,000 EarthWorld™ Medallion in an exciting play-off at Atari's headquarters in Sunnyvale, California. EarthWorld was the first of four contest segments. The winners of each segment will compete in a Grand Finale Contest for the Sword of Ultimate Sorcery, a jeweled sword made at a cost of $50,000.

Now, with WaterWorld™—the third game in the series—you have another opportunity to meet the ATARI SWORDQUEST CHALLENGE!

The winner of the WaterWorld Contest segment will receive a jewel-encrusted Crown, made at a cost of $25,000, plus a chance to compete for the Sword of Ultimate Sorcery at the National Championship.

This leaflet provides the details for you to participate in the WaterWorld Contest. Read the rules carefully. Only one entry is permitted per person in each SWORDQUEST CHALLENGE Contest segment. Get started now...the WaterWorld Contest entry deadline is February 15, 1984.

Also, every valid entry that provides one (or more) correct answer(s) will be acknowledged with a suitable-for-framing ATARI SWORDQUEST CHALLENGE CERTIFICATE which rates your skill level in our new game series.
